Happenings In Society.

East India Social The B. B. C's Entertain An Elegant Dinner

East India Social.

The Baptist Union gave an East India Social on Monday evening, at the residence of Mr. Arthur Hupp on Eastwood. The affair was most interesting from start to finish. The party was carried out even to the smallest details as it would have been in India. First there was a wedding ceremony in East India style, Miss Kate Schien the bride and Dr. J. E. Ragsdale, the groom. The latter wore a garment or robe on the order of the priest's toga, a long flowing robe trimmed in tinsel, with the regular Oriental cap. The bride was masked and wore a loose white Oriental robe. The two little girls, Misses Hupp and Prior, entered the parlor first, then came the two maids, Misses Hupp and Boyer, carrying lighted candles like the wise virgins of old. The two little maids relieved them of their candles, when they went through some kind of ceremony, after which the groom entered the room, then the bride. During the ceremony the bride scattered rice, while the groom waved a candle over her young head three times, and altogether the ceremony which was nothing more than queer signs, was a pretty sight and quite impressive, though nothing was said. The party was all masked and when time for refreshments came, they were removed. The floor in the dining room was covered in sheets, upon which the guests sat, the gentlemen being served first, and the first thing passed was a pan of water and a towel, that they might prepare for the meal, after which chapatis, a dough made of brown flour and in shape of a plate, which answered for both plate and bread as it was to be eaten. Then came rice, curry and tea, served without sugar or spoons, the tea having been sweetened when made.

During the evening Leland and Charles Viley gave some excellent music that was superior to any they have in India and Miss Bettie Tucker and Miss McClure charmed the guests with some instrumental and vocal music. Rev. J. F. Kemper and Rev. Bolton were present to assist in making the entertainment a success and they can congratulate themselves upon giving to the young people a most delightful evening.

The B. B. C's Entertain.

The B. B. C's is the name of a club of young men that has been recently organized. There are some fifteen members, but no one knows who they are, as it is a secret organization. They celebrated the twenty-first birthday of one of their members on Monday evening at the Mayer home on Odell, in a princely manner. The gentlemen were each in full dress and a handsomer company of young men could not be found anywhere. In addition to the music furnished by the B. B. C. mandolin club, Dr. Nepper gave some vocal selections in a very masterly manner. K. K. Mayer also sang and Mrs. Mayer delighted the company with some exquisite instrumental music, which was a genuine treat.

Whist and High Five were the games for the evening, which proved to be very spirited throughout.

at the close of which the guests were invited to the dining room, where a table was beautifully spread, with covers for fifteen, with a lovely center piece of roses and smilax, the fragrance of which filled the room; lovely palms and potted plants were generously distributed all through the house. The menu under the direction of Loomis was as follows:

1st, Caviar sandwiches and pickle; 2nd, cold turkey, celery, Lobster salad, spiced ginkins, hot biscuit; 3rd, chicken croquets, petits poi, Saratoga chips, olives; 4th, Siberian punch, assorted cake; 5th, fruit cake and coffee; 6th imported cigars.

AN Elegant Dinner.

Miss Hicks gave a lovely dinner at her home on Odell on Friday, which included a limited number of friends. The afternoon was pleasantly spent around a cherry grate fire in gay conversation and conundrums. The dinner was served in six courses from a beautiful table fragrant with fresh violets, the sweetest of all flowers, around which there is a secret charm, and we are sure that the poets are not the only ones who appreciate the subtle charm of the delicate blossoms. But the dinner must not be forgotten even for the violet.

First there were fresh oysters with crackers, second, soup, third, vegetables, roast beef and lemon punch, fourth, salmon salad and salted wafers, fifth, tapioca pudding and sixth, coffee and delicate little wafers.

Those present were Misses May Brandon, Belle NorDyke, Annie Guthrie, Miss Buckland and Mrs. C. W. Parent. The guests are loath to give up Miss Hancock who has been Miss Hicks guest for some weeks. The young lady expects to return to her home in St. Louis next week. She has made many friends during her brief visit in the city who would be glad were she to reside in Marshall permanently.

Paul Van Dyke Entertains.

We were pleasantly reminded of the happy days of childhood upon Monday afternoon when little Paul VanDyke celebrated his 6th birthday, by inviting some fifteen or more of his young friends to spend the afternoon with him, and a happier company of little ones never met than on this occasion.

Mrs. VanDyke was assisted by Mrs. Chas. Page and Miss Louise Woodbridge who overlooked nothing that could have added to the pleasure of the children. They played many games, so dear to the hearts of children of their age, and about four o'clock they were served to refreshments of delicious cream and cake. When the day was far spent and the little hands and feet were tired of play, they prepared to take their leave of little Paul, when they were surprised and delighted by a "Black Bird pie", that Mrs. VanDyke had prepared, which consisted of a big deep pan filled with sacks of candy and nuts with a string attached to each, and a paper cover with the strings pulled through. Each guest pulled a string and drew out a package which was the crowning feature of a most happy day.

Those present were, Speed Leonard, Carry Huston, John Hall, Dorothy Woodbridge, Lon and Lora Starling, Earnestine Oday, Agnes Louise Spencer, Sarah Montgomery, Nell and C. G. Page, Edgar Fisher and Fairfax Spencer.

Parlor Meeting.

The parlor meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Wharton, on South Jefferson St., was well attended on Monday afternoon and was a very interesting session. These ladies meet once a month and they are doing a grand work in our community.

Mrs. Emmet Merry, Misses Maidie Montague, Florence and Janie Woodson gave some excellent music on mandolin and guitar. A booklet called "The Drummers Story" read by Mrs. Wharton was much enjoyed. Mrs. Ed Merry made a most interesting talk on "Flower Mission Work" that was well received. Mrs. Merry is one of a committee on sending flowers to the sick, especially to the unfortunate or the aged, who can not afford the luxury. There is nothing so refreshing to the sick as fresh cut flowers. When one tears the paper from a bunch of violets, or even a bunch of clover, their sweet fragrance breathes the giver's message of love and sympathy, as nothing else can do. There is a sweet sentiment in the lines which Ballow wrote of flowers: "For mine is the old belief that midst your bloom, there is a soul in every leaf."

P. P. Club.

Met on Monday afternoon as usual at Loomis's where a jolly good time was had.

The following is the menu that was served, it having received the attention of Harry Francisco, who had been appointed a committee of one to arrange the courses.

Oyster patties, pickles, olives, cheese sandwiches, sauterne, snow-bird salad, coffee, cake, fruit.

Those present were, Plodding Pete, Hungry Harry, Ambling Adolph, Weary Willie, Lazy Louise, Prattling Pattie, Fleeing Florian and Bashful Gertie.

Birthday Dinner.

Mrs. E. V. Dobyns entertained a number of ladies on Saturday at dinner in honor of her 74th birthday and although the day was so disagreeable with a pouring rain, within was sunshine and cheer and a most enjoyable day with a lovely dinner that was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Dobyns received numerous presents, tokens of love and friendship. The invited were Mesdames Robert Campbell, B. M. Spencer and Miss Sallie, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Vandyke and Mrs. Frank Mitchell.

SHILOH.

Rev L. Clemons of Marshall came over Friday to fill an appointment at Normany Sunday and Sunday night on account of bad weather the attendance was small; the next appointment will be the 4th Sunday in March, they will reorganize the church. The church members are requested to be present on Saturday before the 4th Sunday.

Miss Sue Scofield closed a very successful year last Friday at the Davis School house. Miss Sue is well liked and has the spring term of two months at that place.

The Y P P meeting was well attended Friday night. The leader for March 3rd will be Miss Ida Mullins.

Mr J. T. Cooper of Columbia is spending a few days in old Salem visiting friends.

The talk is going around that Dr. A. H. W. Sullivan is thinking of moving to Miami soon.

Mr Stephen Walsh and wife of Miami are visiting Mr Walsh's parents Sunday.

Feb 22nd, the thermometer stood at zero, quite a change from the past few days.

Miss Eugene Estill and Lena Mullins were visiting friends in Miami 22nd.

Mr Harvey Godberry and wife were visiting in the bottom Sunday.

Mr Lenty Mullins is improving after an attack of Lagrippe.

The children of Shiloh school enjoyed a holiday the 22nd.

Willie Paxton spent Sunday with Ernest Mullins.

We are glad to note the sick are all better.

Only two more weeks school at Shiloh.

No crossing on the river Feb 23rd.

Miss Ona Dalis has Lagrippe.

Hogan's Alley.

Gillmor & Leonard's latest comedy success, "Hogan's Alley", is emphatically in it this season. Competent critics say that the organization surpasses that of any play they have ever had. This attraction will be seen at the Opera House, March 11th.

We did not come to Marshall to sell tickets, quote poetry, fake the public or presume to "know it all." Our gallery is established for the people, we make no pets nor cater to any class, but give everyone just what we promise; we shall make our home here, spend our money here and expect a liberal share of public patronage and shall endeavor to merit the same by the quality of our work and our dealings with the people. Try us.

BRUCE'S STUDIO.

The successful patience displayed by Hutchings in photographing children is simply marvelous. He makes a specialty of children's pictures.
